Extremely disappointing experience with Myntra. My order was delayed from 20 June to 22 June, then repeatedly postponed with 24/48-hour promises. The delivery was falsely marked as failed because I was "not reachable," despite receiving no call. The Escalation Desk then asked me to wait 3 more days, but my order was cancelled without my consent. I was even told that I had requested the cancellation, which is completely false. Return pick up issue. I have been a frequent buyer with Myntra. First time ever I faced this issue while returning the product a agent will not come to pickup. I brought a product and even checked if return/exchange was available as I was not sure of the size. The product was large so I registered for return. Only while returning the product I came to know that I have to courier the product on my own, as my pin-code is not eligible for pick up (I stay in Mumbai’s most prime location). Had I know

The new update to display ads for a specific search filter is the worst update, please take it down.. I recently searched for jackets from two specific brands and noticed multiple ads appearing after every two products in the search results. Good Products but Not delivering at all places. The app delivers quality product as I have experienced the app before. But it's really sad that it isn't delivering at my Pincode and hence I have to order the items at my friend's place which in itself is a hassle. Also therefore I cannot choose the option of Try on spot and return if not needed. As I can't personally be at the spot when the packet gets delivered.

So I would looove to have it delivered at my place instead of all the other ruskus.

Easy to use, great filters. I love Myntra's app. It's intuitive to use, and best of all, has great filters. I love that I can search for "70% off" and "linen and pure cotton", for example. My only gripe would be that you can't search by fabric (i.e. organic cotton) first...you have to choose a specific category (i.e. "Kurtas"). I find that annoying because sometimes I just want to see all the linen/flax or cotton items...In an age when 60% of clothes are made from plastic, it would be nice to easily
